Subsequent Recognition

As at the reporting date, non-monetary items which are carried in terms of historical cost denominated in a foreign currency are reported using the exchange rate at the date of the transaction. All non-monetary items which are carried at fair value or other similar valuation denominated in a foreign currency are reported using the exchange rates that existed when the values were determined.

As at the reporting date, all monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currency are restated using the exchange rate prevailing at the reporting date. Exchange difference arising out of initial recognition and subsequent recognition are recognised in the Profit and Loss Account.

(f) Employee Benefits

(g) Inventories

Inventories are valued at cost or net realisable value, whichever is lower, except in the case of work-in-progress which is valued at cost. Cost is determined using the First-in-First-Out (FIFO) method. Cost includes the cost of purchase net of input tax credits under the Goods and Services Tax (GST) scheme, as well as the cost of conversion and other costs incurred in bringing the inventory to its present location and condition.

(h) Borrowing Cost

Borrowing costs attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of a qualifying asset are capitalized as part of the cost of that asset. Borrowing costs, which are not relatable to qualifying assets, are recognized as an expense in the period in which they are incurred.

(i) Taxes on Income

Tax expense for the year, comprising current tax and deferred tax, are included in the determination of the net profit or loss for the year. Current tax is measured at the amount expected to be paid to the tax authorities in accordance with the taxation laws prevailing in the respective jurisdictions.

Deferred tax is recognised for all the timing differences, subject to the consideration of prudence in respect of deferred tax assets. Deferred tax assets are recognised and carried forward only to the extent that there is a reasonable certainty that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which such deferred tax assets can be realised. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using the tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the Balance Sheet date.

Minimum Alternative Tax credit is recognised as an asset only when and to the extent there is convincing evidence that the company will pay normal income tax during the specified year. Such asset is reviewed at each Balance Sheet date and the carrying amount of the MAT credit asset is written down to the extent there is no longer a convincing evidence to the effect that the Company will pay normal income tax during the specified year.

(j) Provisions and Contingent Liabilities

Provisions: Provisions are recognised when there is a present obligation as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and there is a reliable estimate of the amount of the obligation. Provisions are measured at the best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the present obligation at the Balance sheet date and are not discounted to its present value.

Contingent Liabilities: Contingent liabilities are disclosed when there is a possible obligation arising from past events, the existence of which will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the company or a present obligation that arises from past events where it is either not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle or a reliable estimate of the amount cannot be made, is termed as a contingent liability.

Notes annexed to and forming part of the Standalone Financial Statements for the year ended 31st March 2025

(All amounts are in INR Lakhs, except as otherwise stated)

(k) Cash and Cash Equivalents

In the cash flow statement, cash and cash equivalents includes cash in hand, demand deposits with banks, other short-term highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less.

(l) Lease

Finance lease is one in which risk and rewards incidental to the ownership of the leased asset are transferred to lessee but not the actual ownership. Thus in case of finance lease we can say that notional ownership is passed to the lessee. The amount paid as interest during lease period is charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss A/C.

(m) Earnings Per Share

Basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period. Earnings considered in ascertaining the Company's earnings per share is the net profit for the period after deducting preference dividends and any attributable tax thereto for the period. The weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period and for all periods presented is adjusted for events, such as bonus shares, other than the conversion of potential equity shares, that have changed the number of equity shares outstanding, without a corresponding change in resources. For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings per share, the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders and the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period is adjusted for the effects of all dilutive potential equity shares.

(n) Investment

Investment that are readily realizable and are intended to be held for not more than one year from the date, on which such investment are made, are classified as current investments. All other investments are classified as long term investment. Current investments are carried at cost or fair value, whichever is lower. Long-term investments are carried at cost. However, provisions for diminution are made to recognize a decline, other than temporary, in the value of the investment, such reduction being determined and made for each investment individually.

(o) Impairment of Assets

In accordance with the AS-28 at each balance sheet date the company determines whether there is any indication of impairment of the carrying amount of the company's fixed assets. In case of any indication of impairment i.e. the carrying amount of the fixed assets exceeds its estimated recoverable amount, impairment loss is recognised and charged to profit & Loss Account. Company has verified the fixed assets and confirm that there are no impairment of assets as at Balance Sheet date.

(p) Recognition of Interest Cost

The Company recognizes interest expense on its borrowings based on the repayment schedules specified in the respective loan agreements. Accordingly, interest expense is accrued and recorded in the books of account in line with the contractual due dates of Equated Monthly Instalments (EMIs), which incorporate both principal and interest components. This approach ensures that interest cost is recognized systematically over the tenure of the borrowing, consistent with the agreed terms with the lenders, and the financial statements reflect the liability as it accrues under the loan contracts.

(q) Events Occurring after the Balance Sheet Date

Assets and Liabilities & Income and Expenditure are adjusted for events occurring after the balance sheet date that provide additional evidence to assist the estimation of amounts relating to conditions existing at the balance sheet date.

(r) Cash Flow Statement

Cash flows are reported using the indirect method, whereby profit before extraordinary items and tax is adjusted for the effects of transactions of non-cash nature and any deferrals or accruals of past or future cash receipts or payments. The cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities of the Company are segregated based on the available information.

The Company is subject to certain outstanding income tax demands that have been contested and are currently pending before various appellate and judicial authorities. Based on the assessment of its legal and tax advisors, the Company believes that it has a strong case on the merits and, accordingly, no material liability is expected to arise in respect of these matters.

In addition, the Company has entered into certain transactions that expose it to contingent obligations, including guarantees provided to lenders of its subsidiaries and other entities. Some proceedings relating to these matters are at a preliminary stage, while in other cases the claims are presently indeterminate. The Company continues to monitor the developments closely and, based on current evaluations, does not expect any material adverse impact on its financial position.
